Judge Caverly Sticks By Ruling Favoring Defense

Public Sentiment Shows Change?
CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, July 31.—(By the United Press.)—Chief Justice John R. Caverly, sitting as judge and jury at the judicial hearing of Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks, today rendered a verdict of 15 years in the case, showing a pronounced change in the letter-writing public attitude towards the slayers.

Justice Caverly said that 14 of the writers urged life imprisonment for the boys, the other one demanding the gallows.

Hereafter, the preponderance of the letters urged the extreme penalty.

Police were holding Lawrence Kenny (left) for the shooting of Lloyd Henry in an automobile hold-up at Omaha, Neb. Then friends brought Lawrence's twin brother Clarence (right) on the scene, and witnesses were unable to say who really did the shooting. They finally let Clarence go, however, because he had a cauliflower ear and Lawrence didn't.

Republican Regulars Trying To Get Names of Coolidge and Dawes On The Ballot In Wisconsin

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—With Senator La Follette and his followers in control of the Republican organization in Wisconsin, Republican campaign managers are seeking means of putting the names of Coolidge and Dawes on the ballot for the November election in that state.

The Republican managers have been advised that La Follette electors will appear under the Republican emblem on the Wisconsin ballots and that vote for the Republican ticket in that state is a chance to elect a vote for Senator La Follette and Wheeler. The question accordingly has been raised as to whether Mr. Coolidge and General Dawes should be listed as independent candidates.

Some Republican managers were not disposed to enter the Republican nomination under an independent heading, feeling that Senator La Follette might, just as well be conceded his home state. The majority voice in the management, however, feels that the names of the Republican standard bearers should be placed on the ballots and in this feeling they have been supported by numerous letters received from those in Wisconsin who are classed as "regular Republicans."

William J. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, discussed this question with Wisconsin leaders during his stay in Chicago, and according to reports received in Washington has decided to permit the "regular Republicans" of the state to determine what move shall be made.

Having discussed the Michigan political situation and received what was described as "most encouraging news" as to Republican prospects there at a conference yesterday with Governor Grosbeck, of that state, President Coolidge today drove forward with work on his notification speech with few interruptions of a political nature in prospect.

PACKERS REFUSE TO BUY; HOGS CUT
OMAHA, NEB., July 31.—(By the United Press.)—Refusal of the big packers to buy hogs, is causing the break in hog prices of the last two days, according to commission houses here. The packers bought very few hogs during the recent high prices, the commission men say. Little packing houses and speculators are said to have lost heavily.

Prices here broke 25 to 50 cents today, making the top price: For hogs, $22.50, compared with Tuesday's high of $23.00.

KANSAS CITY—Hog prices dropped 50 cents to $18.00 today. The top price was $18.00. Receipts were 6,000.

CLEVELAND—Hogs sold 50 cents less today at $10.75 today.

CHICAGO—Hog prices dropped 50 cents today. Today's cut together with a low clip yesterday, brought the top price in $10.00 or $11.15 lower than Tuesday's record high.

Male Butterflies Like To Get Drunk But Gentler Sex Shuns Liquor

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Male butterflies like to get drunk, while female ones shun liquor and are perfectly content with water as a beverage, is the discovery of the Zoologist, Sutt, after experiments along these lines. He kept all sorts of butterflies in his wire-screened garden and exposed several bowls, containing either pure water or whiskey of different brands. The males invariably took the liquor bowls and slipped so long that they fell off the brim and rolled on the ground.

The females, however, behaved and without exception, shunned the alcohol.

Lived Together 15 Years But Didn't Know They Weren't Married

MARTINS FERRY, O., July 31.—(United Press.)—After living together fifteen years and having ten children, Mike Zubon and Mary Roman have been married by a justice of the peace here.

In 1909 Mike and Mary bought a license to marry but they thought that was all there was to it, not knowing that a ceremony also is necessary before a couple is considered married.

The discovery that they were never married came when they brought a family argument into court.

A new license was obtained and Justice Albert W. Otte performed the ceremony.

Candidate Says He Believes No Necessity Of Mobilization

(By Percy B. Scott)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 31.—(By the United Press.)—John W. Davis, speaking as standard bearer full support to Charles W. Bryan's stand on "Mobilization Day."

Issuing a formal statement to correct printed intimations that he was in disagreement with his running mate on the question of engaging in a military demonstration during September Davis said:

"On the contrary, I think that the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska is entirely sound."

"Previously Davis' associates had indicated he must not embroil himself in what seemed to be an extraneous question growing out of the issue raised by Bryan when, as executive of his state, he refused to endorse unqualifiedly President Coolidge's program for a civilian mobilization drill. When the Democratic nominee found, however, that his silence was being taken as indicative of his embarrassment at Bryan's stand, he promptly corrected the view."

"Since I returned from the state of Maine," Davis said, "I have taken occasion to inform myself concerning the views expressed by the governor of Nebraska in regard to 'Mobilization Day.'"

"I am surprised at the statement which I see in the press to the effect that I am in disagreement with him or that his position has in any way proven to be embarrassing to me."

"On the contrary, I think that the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska to the effect that there is no necessity at this time to encourage divisions to leave their occupations for the purpose of engaging in what would only be a military demonstration without any practical educational effect is entirely sound."

"It is one thing to keep the military organizations of the country in adequate practice; it is quite another to encourage demonstrations which can be nothing else at a time when every citizen should be busy working to bring the world back to peace and to work, eradicating the prejudices and passions growing out of the world war and encouraging fruitful trade and commerce. In all these America should take the lead."

SEE ESCAPE OF LEOPOLD AND LOEB FROM NOOSE

(By Edward C. Derr)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, July 31.—(By the United Press.)—Legal authorities today forecast the escape of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb from the noose for the slaying of Robert Franks. This forecast was based on the tentative ruling of Chief Justice John R. Caverly which favors the defense contention that its medical testimony is admissible.

Justice Caverly ruled with the defense when the state objected to the introduction of medical testimony to show "mitigating evidence." But State Attorney Grosbeck determined to protect his "perfect hanging case" insisted on showing the court rulings against admission of the medical testimony.

The defense took much courage from the statement of Justice Caverly that a few months ago he had a somewhat similar case and sentenced the slayer to life in prison.

The case was that of Sam Rosen. Rosen killed his wife.

"Court could and did appoint an alienist to examine him and when the court was told the man was not insane, and was responsible for his acts, I permitted the plea of guilty to stand, and sentenced him to life imprisonment," Justice Caverly pointed out.

Rosen had pleaded guilty and begged for hanging. Justice Caverly appointed an alienist to examine him. The report showed Rosen technically sane, but in a physical condition. The court gave him life in prison.

Justice Caverly holds he not only has the right but it is his duty to hear (Continued On Page Eight)

COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—(By the United Press.)—A heavy under the burden of bitter disappointment, Governor Donahoe went about his work as usual today after learning that a herd of cows had partially stripped his sweet corn patch at New Philadelphia. Persia Meets American Demands

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Persian government has assured the state department it will take steps with regard to the Imbrie incident that will leave "no ground whatever for any anxiety on the part of the United States."

Replying to the American communication demanding full protection for American citizens in Persia and threatening to break off diplomatic relations as a result of the killing of Vice-Consul Robert Imbrie, and the subsequent attack upon his widow, the Persian government declared it would "repair the incident and fulfill the points that are suggested," by the United States.

KIDNAPPER OF CHILD NOT TO BE PROSECUTED BY MOTHER

CLEVELAND, O., July 31.—(By the United Press.)—Cleveland police today requested Buffalo, N. Y., authorities to release Mrs. Phoebe Woods, 50-year-old widow of Cleveland, arrested there last night for the kidnapping of Dorothy May Blanchard, 5.

The release was ordered after Dorothy's mother, Mrs. Margaret Blanchard, said she would not prosecute the kidnapping charge against Mrs. Woods. Mrs. Woods and the missing girl were found in a rooming house in Buffalo last night. They had been recognized from newspaper descriptions.

President's Son Not To Attend Military School

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Plans made by President and Mrs. Coolidge to permit their son, John, to attend the military training camp this summer at Camp Devens, Mass., have been abandoned, and John will remain with his parents at the White House until fall, when he enters Amherst College.

It was the plan and desire of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge at the time school closed last June that both John and his brother, Calvin, Jr., should attend the camp, but since the death of the latter, the question of John's attendance at the camp has been held in abeyance. John has been spending almost all of his time with his mother and his presence was found to be such a comfort to her, that the president finally decided it would be better for him to remain here until school opens. This would have been John's second summer at Camp Devens, where he was taking training a year ago when his father became president.

The president, accompanied by John, meanwhile appears to have resumed his horseback riding as a means of escape, having been observed several times recently by early risers on the paths south of the White House.

Postal Employee's Steady Aim Thwarts $50,000 Mail Robbery

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 31.—(By the United Press.)—Quick thinking and steady aim by a post office employee, prevented a $50,000 mail robbery here today.

One of two bandits attempted the robbery in the Lackawanna Railway station, was shot and killed by Eugene Stack, the postal employee, during a battle on the station platform.

Stack himself was struck twice by bullets.

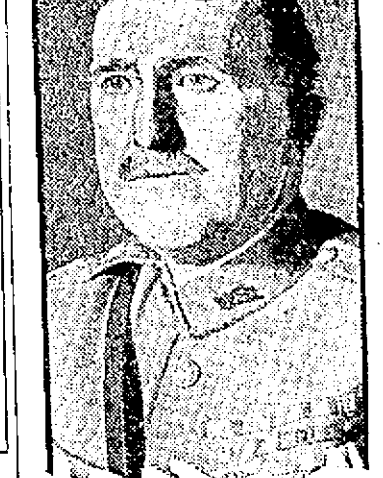

The second bandit escaped.

Five pouches containing about $50,000, in registered mail and money orders were on the platform as the gun men approached. A sixth bag, filled with Federal Reserve Currency, from New York, which ordinarily is with the other five, did not arrive today.

Stack approached the upper post office platform to await arrival of a mail train from New York at 4:38 a. m. He was reading a newspaper as the bandits came up from the other end of the station.

Without warning one of the men drew an automatic pistol and opened fire on the postal man and a negro helper nearby. The negro fled, but stack, although hit in the leg, drew his own heavy caliber service pistol and fired six shots at the bandits. One of the men was shot through the chest and killed. The other fled down a stairway and escaped.

Four Shot As Hostile Crowds And Klan Stage Bitter Battle

HAVERHILL, MASS., July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four men were shot here early today when hostile crowds clashed with between 3,000 and 5,000 members of the Ku Klux Klan who held a meeting lasting into the early morning on a hill in the neighborhood of Groveland. State and local police at length quelled the disorders, taking into custody 23 men, including three of the wounded men, and confiscated six shot guns, several revolvers and quantities of ammunition.

The disorders broke out at the conclusion of a Klan initiation ceremony on Perry Hill, Groveland, and continued as nearly 1,000 automobiles, bearing Klansmen from Worcester, Boston, Springfield and other cities traveled from the meeting place, homeward over the road toward Haverhill. Shots were fired and many missiles were thrown at the passing cars but as is known, only four men were injured. None of the injured men, all of whom suffered gunshot wounds in the legs, was believed to be dangerously hurt.

The wounded men, James Connolly, Francis Collier, Edmund Lucey and a fourth named Buckley, of Haverhill, were in one automobile.

They alleged that they were fired upon by Klansmen in a large truck, when they attempted to pass the vehicle after state police had signalled them to move ahead.

Approximately half of the score of men arrested were Haverhill residents and the others were from Massachusetts cities as far west as Worcester. All were charged with disturbing the peace.

About 300 armed guards surrounded the ten-acre field in Groveland, in which the ceremonies were in progress last night, witnesses said. A crowd of about 300 men collected outside the field, but although hostile, no disturbance arose until about one o'clock this morning when the meeting ended and the Klansmen, openly armed, witnesses say, marched out of the field beside the cars as a measure of precaution against attack. Large numbers of the Klan group were apparently former service men, wearing army uniforms.

Stones were hurled at the machines and occasional shots were fired as the Klansmen, riding in their cars, drove toward Haverhill. The firing and stone throwing increased as the Klansmen entered Haverhill and it was in Haverhill that all of the arrests were made, before the last of the Klan cars had disappeared. Arrests appeared to be approximately evenly divided between persons attending the Klan meeting and opposition.

Progressives May Run Hylan To Fight For Governor New York

NEW YORK, July 31.—The followers of Senator La Follette and Senator Wheeler, the new Senatorial Presidential ally, rose up today to remark that they, too, are going to fight for New York State in the coming election. Furthermore the Progressives, as they call themselves now, are going to raise funds in New York City to help carry on their fight. It is asserted in most positive fashion, however, that none of it will trickle in from Wall Street.

State adherents of the La Follette-Wheeler political merger are planning to hold a big convention in Albany in about two weeks and there has been some talk that they might endorse Mayor Hylan, of this city, who is looking for a demand to come from the people that he run for governor against Al Smith in the event John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate is successful in getting Al to stand for a third term. Mr. Smith already has carried the Democratic banner in the state three times, twice successfully and is anxious to retire to private life but national leaders of the party are insisting that he make one more stand in an effort to swing the 45 votes of the Empire State into the Davis column.

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The members of the experts' committee of the inter-allied conference after examining the proposals submitted by the French experts yesterday as a compromise plan to end the conference deadlock over security for the Dawes plan German loan, declared their belief today that the French proposals with minor alterations would probably be acceptable to the conference. The French proposal was accepted unanimously by committee number one of the conference while an amendment put forward by the British members this morning was withdrawn.

The French and British delegates congratulating each other on the happy turn of events. One delegate said, "The great difficulty of the conference now is over."

LONDON, July 31.—(By the United Press.)—France's formula was riddled and ridiculed by two committees of the reparations conference today.

The French proposal to end the twelve day deadlock met with violent and sarcastic opposition and French delegates emerged from the sessions with worried expressions.

So stormy did the arguments of Committee Number 3 over the French suggestions become that the French delegation claimed criticism of the proposals by the British and Americans' war-rant Herriot and his colleagues in returning to their hotels, packing up and going home.

But the Italian delegates who backed up the British and American stand, acted as pacifiers and the committee meeting broke up with the disputants agreeing to disagree.

British and American delegates who opposed the suggestions offered by Premier Herriot professed to see in the French plan a "joker" that would mean the entire re-writing of the experts' report.

Despite the opposition of Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden in the first round of the reparations conference, the French scheme for passing upon default (one of the questions under dispute), the proposal on this subject was adopted unanimously.

The third committee, however, was having a stormy session and reached an impasse. This committee considered the French plan for passing upon default in kind and the future amending of the experts' report. As a matter of fact, the French proposal regarding defaults was what the Anglo-American group wanted, and the latter show no intention of yielding on the other matters in the third committee.

The French feel they have been out-maneuvered and say they will not have their proposals regarding defaults, accepted unless the others are also.

Present Protest To Utilities Commission

City Solicitor Sherrard M. Johnson went to Columbus Thursday to present to the Public Utilities Commission the protest recently registered by city council against the proposed light rate changes of the Portsmouth Public Service company.

What kind of pleasures have you chosen?

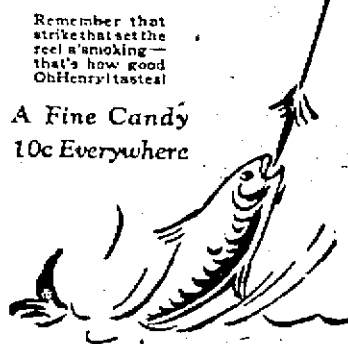

There are two kinds of pleasure: Some folks find a great deal of pleasure in buying dainty things to eat or wear, and in spending freely for various recreations. A reasonable amount of this kind of pleasure is worth while.

Others have chosen the "everlasting" pleasure. The pleasure of owning a roof over their heads; in educating their children; in preparing for emergencies, and in facing their old age without fear that they will be in want.

Those who have chosen the everlasting pleasure and are saving successfully with this strong Bank have chosen well.

HOT WEATHER DRESS OR LACK

WARREN, O., July 31.—It was so hot this afternoon that Robert Johnson and police differed as to the amount of clothing necessary if one is to be modestly clad in public.

When he met the officers; a short distance from his home, they took exception to the scantiness of Robert's attire.

Robert was set in his ideas, however, and would not agree to more clothes, or more privacy. So a cell at police headquarters was placed at his disposal.

SHOOTING PAINS FELT LIKE FIRE

Muscular Rheumatism Caused Man to Be Stiff and Sore in Arms and Lower Limbs.

Mr. William Gilbert

"As a pain-chaser, there is nothing that can compare with Ka-di-ok," said William L. Gilbert, of 332 East Second street, East Liverpool, in speaking to the Ka-di-ok representative in this city. Mr. Gilbert is a truckman employed in the No. 5 Newell Plant of the Laughlin China Company, where he has worked for many years, and is well known, since he has spent most of his life in East Liverpool. He is a member of Protected Home Circle No. 88.

"No one knows the agony I have gone through with muscular rheumatism. Pains in my arms and limbs went through me like shooting fire, and I was so stiff and sore that at times I could scarcely get around. The pain I endured kept me awake at night, and I was tired out all the time. When I got into a comfortable position I hated to get up, and many a time I have gone to work when I felt that I never would get there."

"Ka-di-ok was recommended to me, but I wasn't very enthusiastic about it, for I have taken so many different remedies with so little relief. However, I got some and have been taking it for a short time with much better results than I anticipated. While I am not what you might say well, I began to improve with the first dose, and I feel so much better that I am going right on taking it. If I improve with the few I have does as I will soon be a well man. I am more free from pain than I have been in years, and I owe it all to Ka-di-ok. I do not hesitate to recommend it to those who suffer with rheumatism and kindred diseases."

Ka-di-ok may be obtained at all drug stores in Portsmouth.—Advertisement.

Fifty West Virginia Mining Properties Consolidated in 25 Million Dollar Combine

CINCINNATI, July 31.—(By The Associated Press)—Consolidation of more than fifty West Virginia mining properties, involving between $20,000 and $25,000, has just been effected, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Through the arrangements that have been concluded, the 25 going mines of the Main Island Creek Coal company, with headquarters at Omar, West Virginia, will be linked with others in that territory controlled by the West Virginia Coal and Coke company and the Rich Creek Mining company.

It is understood that the financing of the new corporation has been done largely through New York and Philadelphia banking interests. Books Hutchinson of Buckhannon, West Virginia, will be president of the new organization, according to word received here yesterday. Mr. Hutchinson is now in New York attending to the financial details of the transactions.

Pepgen at Fisher and Streich's Wins New Friends Every Day

"I surely do want to recommend Pepgen, this herb medicine that is being sold at Fisher and Streich's Pharmacy," said Mrs. Emma Jones of 1223 10th street. Her husband is a popular employee of the Excelsior Shoe Factory.

"My husband and I are both taking it and we know it is a fine medicine. I had been in a run-down condition all winter. Every morning I would wake up with a dull headache and a bad taste in my mouth. I hated to get out of bed and had a worn-out tired feeling."

"After eating a gas would form in my stomach and I would have pains in my back and side and up around my head."

"It was just about a month ago that I started taking Pepgen and now I am feeling just fine. My stomach is strong and well. My appetite is good and I sleep sound every night."

"I can gladly recommend Pepgen to the people of Portsmouth."

The genuine Pepgen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Streich's, Kelson Pharmacy, New Boston.—Advertisement.

PRISONER DIGS WAY OUT OF JAIL

Shortly after Robert Kelley, Roanoke deputy, arrived here this morning to take Charles Clark, alias Charles Hoek, 27, negro, from the local police station, where he was being held, back to Roanoke to face charges of house breaking, Clark decided that freedom was preferable to facing a serious charge, so he pried loose the steel plates on the jail wall, pushed out a few bricks, squeezed his way through the small hole and beat it.

Two months ago Donald Judd, who was caught in the store of the Hibbs Hardware company, broke jail and is still enjoying his freedom. His pal, Mike Connolly, who also was nabbed in the Hibbs store, made an unsuccessful attempt to break jail on June 8 last. He was later bound over to the grand jury. Clark was arrested here Tuesday night, after a letter had been received to be on the lookout for him, and Roanoke officials were notified at once that he was being held. Kelley arrived here this morning on N. & W. train No. 3 and went to the jail to get his man. After talking to Clark about 5 o'clock, Kelley sat down to take a rest. Fifteen minutes later, when he passed the jail door, he was told by another prisoner that Clark had just broken jail, working his way out in ten minutes. Investigation was immediately made and it was found that one of the steel plates which lined the inside of the wall was torn loose from its rivets and the outside bricks knocked out. Clark evidently had gotten some help from the outside, for he used an iron bar to pry loose the plate, Chief Arthur says. After the plate was loose, the rest was easy.

A thorough search was made through the alleys and in the North End for the prisoner, but he evidently boarded a freight train and made good his escape. Several persons stated that they saw a negro running through the alley toward Front street early this morning. Nearby towns have been notified to keep a lookout for Clark.

HIGHWAYMEN ARE OPERATING ON THE WEST SIDE DETOUR

Two highwaymen, youthful in appearance, heavily armed, have been operating on the detour near the new Country Club, on the West Side.

In the last few days they have stopped several machines, but were frightened away before they secured any plunder, the hold-up men evidently being new at the business. The two men have concealed their identity by placing handkerchiefs over their faces, but officials have a good clue and their arrests may be effected at any time.

One motorist, it is claimed, fired at the two men several nights ago, but it was so dark his aim was bad.

Mystery Surrounds Finding Of Woman Unconscious

DENVER, COLO., July 31.—Police have been unable to solve the mystery of circumstances surrounding the finding of Mrs. Gertrude O'Reilly Ramsey, Cooper of Denver and Kansas City, lying near death on an improvised bed in the kitchenette of her fashionable apartment here Tuesday morning, gasping from a stove nearby. She is in a hospital, unconscious and unable to aid the officers.

Mrs. Cooper's identity was not established until yesterday when her mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Reilly Casey and her stepfather, Patrick Casey, visited her.

Mrs. Casey told police she knew of no one reason why her daughter should attempt to take her own life and Mr. Casey declared he believed Mrs. Cooper was a victim of foul play.

Police were trying to verify a report that J. H. Cooper of Kansas City, from whom Mrs. Cooper is said to have been divorced in Wichita, Kansas, four years ago, arrived in Denver Tuesday night and that Mr. Cooper had communicated with his former wife by telephone before starting for her home. Mr. Cooper thus far has not been located.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Is it a law for a 13 year old boy to play in the field from 3 to 6 o'clock? His stepfather says there is no law for little boys working in the country. I told him I thought there is. Please tell me what you know about it as I am anxious to know. I pity a little boy who works in the field.

THOUGHTFUL.
The child labor laws of the states set up certain standards—age, educational and physical as a rule—which the child must meet before he can be employed. Of course this refers to employment in factories, etc. In the attempt to prepare a child for healthful manhood and womanhood, it is the intention of the states to keep the children in school until they are of a certain age, so that they can obtain the proper development of both mind and body. At the same time, he receives recreation through organized play, which also helps toward this end. Few state laws apply specifically to farm work or domestic service. Although a number of laws apply to all gainful occupations and therefore cover farm work and house work, practically the only regulation of these types of child labor is that which results indirectly from the operation of compulsory school attendance laws.

It hurts no child to help a little if he is well and strong. But there is no reason why any child of thirteen years of age should perform a man's labor in the fields. Even though he may be strong, such work is very apt to break down his health and keep him that way through life. A child should get all the fun out of his young years, for as he grows older he will realize the seriousness of life. Until the boy is two or three years older, his stepfather should hire help, as I am sure a boy of thirteen would not be allowed to work on another farm to earn money.

Dear Dolly—I am coming to you for good advice. Now, Dolly, I have a burnt orange silk caution crepe dress and every drop of water that I get on it leaves a spot. Now, I would like to know how to take care of it. And where sweat draws the color out of it, what could I do to bring its color back? G. L. C.
If the dress is very plain, I would wash it with soap flakes and lukewarm water, rinsing well in cold water. If very fancy, send it to a dry cleaner to have cleaned. The sweat spots may not come out at all.

Dear Miss Wise—What do you think of a hobbled-haired mother who goes to the races every day and gambles on them and leaves her two little girls at home alone? The oldest is only four or five years old. Give me your answer. A READER.
It is no one's affair but her own. You had better learn to spell and write before you try to write criticism.

fixing anyone else for their shortcomings. You know, no one is perfect.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me how to wash a black tulle dress with white figure so as to hold its color? So many times they have turned gray when they are washed.

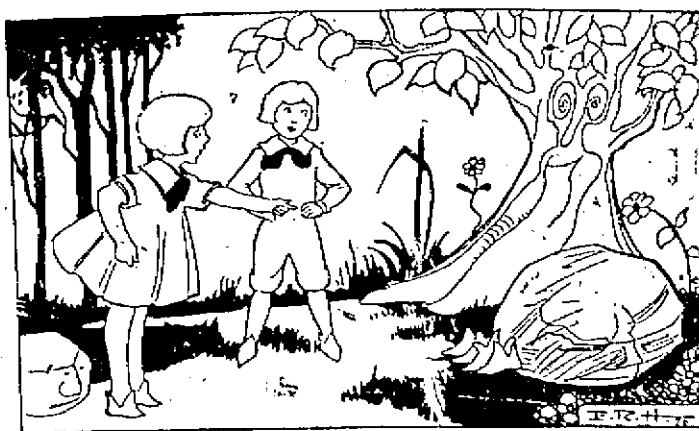

THANK YOU.
An old method is to use about a teaspoonful of lye to a basin of water to set the color in black washings. Let it dry after soaking and wash in lukewarm suds, rinsing well in three waters. It is well to iron before it is quite dry.

Dear Miss Wise—You have answered so many questions I would be pleased if you would answer mine. There are two glasses on a kitchen table on the side to take a picture that you can get standing up. I have lost the one on the top and now I can only take a side picture. Can you tell me where I can find it, or write and tell me some place else to write.

Take thirty-six steps from your front door to the left. Stop and turn to the right three times. Sit down and begin to dig. After digging three hours or so, you might find it. If not, to a camera shop or drug store and buy a new one, or let them order one for you.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

WEENY, THE CIRCUS ELEPHANT

And there, sure enough, were the magic green shoes.

"I wonder if the Fairy Queen will send us on another adventure," said Nancy to Nick, as they ran down to the meadow to play.

Let's look beside the stone under the chestnut tree," said Nick.

And there, sure enough, were the magic green shoes, and beside them a letter. The letter said:

"Dear Twins:

"You have been such good children that I thought you would like to go on a vacation. My good friend, Weeny, the elephant, is going to take a trip around the world, and if you like you may take the magic shoes and go with him.

Weeny lives in the jungle and if you put on your magic shoes they will take you to him at once.

"I hope that you will have a nice time and that you will see many interesting things.

"Love, the Fairy Queen."

"Hurrah!" cried Nick. "Goody!" cried Nancy. And into the magic shoes they jumped in a hurry.

First, whizz, whizz! Away they went through the air like two little comets, until they came to the jungle. And there was Weeny packing his suitcase.

"Hello!" he called. "I thought you would be here soon. The Fairy Queen told me to expect you. Did you bring any peanuts along?"

"We never thought of them," said Nancy, regretfully.

"Well, never mind. It's too late now," said Weeny. "Besides, most likely we'll run into a peanut tree."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donaldson and son Jimmy of Kinney's Lane and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Donaldson of their street returned Tuesday evening from a delightful motor trip through the East. They visited Atlantic City, Washington, D. C., and New York City, taking the trip up the Hudson river as far as Storm King Mountain, stopping at the Thousand Islands on the return trip. Before returning home they also stopped at Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson of Fourth and Bond streets have as their guests Mrs. Dawson's sister, Mrs. Fred C. Helmreich and children Robert, Gladys and June, and Mrs. Helmreich's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Witzberger, all of Wheeling. The party will leave at the Dawson home Friday to return to their home.

Mrs. James H. Delph of Nelsonville is visiting her brother, Harry M. Sickles and family of Second street this week. Mrs. Delph came last Sunday.

"Peanuts don't grow on trees," said Nick.

"No, I guess they grow in paper bags," said Weeny. "There! I'm all packed now. I'm not taking much. Only a nightie and a toothbrush and my specks. Hop on my back now and please hold my suitcase. I don't think I forgot anything."

Now it is a small matter to hop up on an elephant's back, but if you have magic shoes you can hop to the moon, so we jumped the twins and off they started, all three of them on their vacation.

"I think I'll visit my circus friends," said Weeny. "It's far cheaper to visit friends than to go to hotels."

"Oh, were you ever in a circus?" asked Nick.

"Sure," said Weeny. "That's what elephants are for."

"Then why aren't you still?" asked Nancy.

"I didn't like to be scrubbed with a broom like an old carpet," said Weeny, "so I ran off."

"If you go back to the circus to visit your friends, you'll have to stay," said Nick.

"Oh, my friends aren't in the circus any more," said Weeny as he trotted along. "There was a wreck on the railroad one night and they all got away and went home."

"How can you cross the sea?" asked Nick. "It's pretty wide."

"The Fairy Queen touched me with her wand and I learned to fly with my ears," said Weeny. "I am also a good swimmer. I can go anywhere."

I watched the unwrapping of sixty new fall frocks at the fashion this morning. They are creations of the famous Madame Bonaldi and of course are being placed in the "Little Lady Section." They are designed for women and misses less than 5 feet 4 inches tall. Some models are especially planned for short stout women wearing sizes 38, 40, 42. Others fit the little women weighing one hundred pounds or less, without alteration.

The styles—well I wish I were word artist enough to give an adequate description of these lovely frocks. In cloths, there are lovely repps and charmed twills in rust, penny and green. The silks include satin cantons, bengalines, brocade-laines and lovely crepes in striking and original styles. The sales girls are proud of these frocks and will be delighted to show them to you.

THREE BIG REASONS WHY DEMOCRATS SHOULD VOTE FOR THOMAS H. MORROW

—FOR— ATTORNEY GENERAL

1. As United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio, he procured the indictment and conviction of George Remus, nationally known bootlegger, in one of the most sensational trials in the country.

2. He is the only ex-service man running at the Democratic primaries. During the war he served as Captain, Company K, 148th Infantry (Buckeye) Division, and was cited for gallantry while on the Argonne Meuse offensive.

3. He is endorsed by men of all political parties. Former Governors Judson Harmon and James E. Campbell, former Judges Hugh L. Nichols, Oscar W. Newman and John Weld Peck, and former Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan signed his nominating papers, and are urging his nomination.

THE LAST EPISODE

She had been crying. As a matter of fact, she was weeping now. Bravely she was endeavoring to hide her emotion. Indeed, emotion is not the word, for that word connotes a certain agitation that was lacking in her manner.

Sheer hopelessness was written upon her face—that despair of youth so infinitely more tragic than the despair of age. And she was pathetically young.

In years, perhaps, she had reached maturity, but hers was the type of face that mirrors the innocence of childhood. Neither time nor experience can ever age such folk.

But even these can suffer. Perhaps indeed, they suffer more than the calloused of soul. I, a cynical violator of the laws of man, wanted to go over and pat her hand, and wipe away her tears.

I smiled as I pictured myself doing this. Her young escort would doubtless present such an action, for I have not reached the age when I may venture benevolence. I am young—not as young as the youth who accompanied her, but still of an age when women sometimes glance my way. Partly, too, my smile was sardonic. I was not the person to offer chivalrous sympathy to weeping maidens, with or without escort.

"At this very moment the police of New York were searching for me. As I have recounted in a previous chapter, one Svete Thomassen, a brutal murderer, had been killed in my apartment by the White Eagle, that great Frenchman whom I would rank as the foremost criminal genius of his time. Did not truth compel me to admit that I have defeated him on numerous occasions?"

The newspapers were filled with accounts of the finding of Thomassen's body, and with tales of the extraordinary efforts police were making to find Robert Stickney, the tenant of the apartment. Indeed, the newspapers did not condemn Stickney. They said that he had rendered a service to society in the killing of Thomassen. Nevertheless, the police naturally desired to interview Mr. Stickney. And if Mr. Stickney were captured by the police, it would transpire, possibly, that he was a gentleman of fortune, who had become a professional despoiler of the too numerous profiteers which the war had created.

Now I, John Ainsley, had no wish to disclose my identity, my means of livelihood. In fact, that means of livelihood, I hoped, had been abandoned. I had made my stake. I intended to sail for Australia. In a couple of years I would return. I would go to that native town of mine where the Ainsleys were known and respected, and would take up again the life that I had led before the war and the crash of my fortunes.

Five days had elapsed since the discovery of Thomassen's body. And during those five days I had secluded myself in the rooms which I had taken in a modest hotel.

But I was always a restless person. Tomorrow, at five in the morning, the Colgate sailed from her dock for Sydney. My luggage was already in my stateroom. It would have been a simple matter for me, having paid my hotel bill, to step into a taxi, drive downtown and across Brooklyn Bridge to the steamer.

But I would not see New York again for at least two years. It would take me that long so to establish myself in Australia that if, in the years to come, some one should ask if John Ainsley really had made a fortune in the island continent, it would be possible to point to a background of trading or speculation.

I felt homesickness before I had left my country's soil. I wanted to drink in, for the last time, the vital air of Manhattan, to see the hurrying people. And so, despite the fact that policemen were armed with a description of Robert Stickney, John Ainsley dined at the Trevor.

It was a time when I should have taken no risks whatsoever. And certainly it would be madness of me to add to the risk already run by intruding upon the young couple who sat at a table in the alcove diagonally across the Trevor dining-room.

Who was I, bearing my burdens, to think that I could lift the weight from another's shoulders? And yet she looked like a girl whom I had known a dozen years ago, a girl with whom I had gone to school.

She was a pretty girl. Her hair was golden, her complexion pink and white, her mouth sweet and gentle, and her nose was straight and small enough to add a touch of roguishness to her countenance—although, indeed, her present mood held no gaiety.

Her companion was about twenty-four. He was good-looking, and on an occasion when he was less harassed than now, his face would have seemed ingenuous. This was no lovers' quarrel; this was no grief of the ordinary sort which they were sharing. Only some desperate turn in the tide of their affairs could reduce these naturally buoyant young people to their present condition of despair.

Well, under all the circumstances, it was no business of mine. I paid my check and started from the room. It was necessary for me to pass their table. And I heard the girl say: "Frank, you won't kill yourself?"

Now, nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand, the person to whom such a question is addressed has not the slightest intention toward self-destruction. But there is always the thousandth case.

This boy had pride; it was legible in his lips, in the gleam in his eyes, in the thin line of his nose. Such a person might readily be proudly unable to see any way out of a difficulty but the door way to death. And so, acting as always in my life, upon impulse, I dropped into the seat beside him.

"These alcoves in the Trevor were furnished with broad benches whose cushions would accommodate two persons on each side of the table. The girl and the man sat, as though for the extreme of privacy that the recess afforded, against the wall, opposite each other. There was plenty of room for me beside the youth, but not much welcome.

I raised a hand to stop his angry expostulation.

"I want to talk to you," I said curtly.

The anger died out of his face, to be replaced by a grimace hardly creditable in one so young.

"If you try to arrest me here, I'll kill you first," he said quietly.

I smiled at him. "Do I look like a detective?" I asked.

"If you're not, why do you intrude upon us?" he demanded.

"I'm a friend," I told him.

"I never saw you before in my life," he asserted.

This girl's face lost the expression of horror that the youth's words had brought to it. She reached across the table and touched his hand.

"Let him explain, Frank," she pleaded. "It can do no harm."

"Is certain by tomorrow morning," he declared.

I glanced around the restaurant. The hour was late. Most of the patrons had left. I produced a pocketbook. From it I withdrew twenty-five hundred dollar bills.

His eyes widened; a whistle of amazement came through his clenched teeth. "Do you suppose I can accept such a gift?" he whispered, as though the sight of the money had hurt his vocal cords.

"In death easier?" I inquired.

"You're about twenty-five," I guessed. "Let us assume that I did not always have a pocketbook filled with money. Let us suppose that if a stranger had been my friend, had done for me what I am offering you, that—well, there might have been a girl, as there is a girl with you." I heard my voice grow gruff and harsh.

"Take it and live, or refuse and die. Do I have to beg you to accept what I do not need?"

WHEN WIFE'S INCOME EXCEEDS HUSBAND'S, IS ANYTHING DUE HER?
HAMILTON, O., July 31.—When a wife's income exceeds that of her husband is she entitled to anything? That is the question that Judge Clarence Murphy has been called upon to decide, in the divorce suit of Clifford Belser against Selma Belser. Mrs. Belser has made application for temporary alimony.

In the presentation of her claim, Mrs. Belser admitted that as saleswoman for an automobile dealer the past year, she had earned $2,000 while her husband testified that he had earned, as an employee of the maker of the car his wife sells, considerably less. Judge Murphy took the case under advisement.

TRUCK PLUNGES INTO ROOM; DRIVER HURT
CINCINNATI, July 31.—A five-ton automobile truck made an unceremonious intrusion into the front room of the home of Mrs. Margaret Mayes, and rendered the driver of the truck, David Shaw, negro unconscious. Mrs. Mayes barely escaped with her life as the truck knocked over stone pillars holding up the porch, and bumped itself into the room in which she was sitting.

The truck had been anchored by a wire cable fastened to a tree.

ERIE-NICKLE PLATE MERGER PLANS TALKED
NEW YORK, July 31.—The second step in the proposed consolidation of the Erie and Pere Marquette Railroads with the Nickel Plate system under the direction of the Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland was taken today when O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen conferred with George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank and one of Erie's largest stockholders.

A representative of J. P. Morgan and Company, who have given banking support to the Van Sweringens in their railroad operations, attended the conference.

Tentative plans, whereby the Cleveland railroad magnates may obtain control of the Erie Railroad and incorporate it into the Nickel Plate system, it is understood, were submitted to Mr. Baker.

Both the bankers and the Van Sweringen brothers, however, declined to comment on the purpose of the conference. Similar proposals were presented to Pere Marquette officials several weeks ago, making the beginning of actual negotiations for the merger.

SPEED MANIA TAKES LIFE EVERY NINE MINUTES, STONE ASSERTS
TORONTO, July 31.—"Every nine minutes in modern transportation a man is killed," Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said in an address to the Canadian branch of the association today.

"The world has gone crazy about speed. People who don't have to get anywhere today, tomorrow or perhaps even, are paying excess fares for fast trains. Every three minutes a man is injured," he said.

The engineers and their wives are gathered here from all parts of Canada.

DECISION MAY EFFECT BUILDING
CINCINNATI, July 31.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in proposed buildings now in the course of construction may be tied up and may be lost through a decision today of Judge R. T. Gowdy, of Xenia, Ohio, who granted an injunction against the erection of a $2,000,000 apartment building.

The judge said the plans of the buildings and permit did not contravene. Building Commissioner George Hauser, stated that if Judge Gowdy's decision stood in higher court several building permits will have to be revoked. Commissioner Hauser said that a considerable number of legal points brought out in the decision related to the permits granted for the construction of the several other large buildings.

A conference between City Solicitor Saul Ziolkowski and Hauser would be held before the commissioner takes any action in revoking the permit, it is said.

Frank Miller Is Victim

FINED AFTER COURT FINISHED BARBERING CUSTOMER

Of Chinnville Speed Trap

Chinnville, on the road to Race-land, is a good place to get shamed, according to Frank C. Miller, well-known Ninth street druggist. Frank was shaved out of $13.80 the other day by the barber-magistrate of that village for alleged speeding. In a hurry to get to the track in his Hudson super-six, in order that he might witness the initial race, he was only making four-teen when apprehended.

As It Happened 24 Years Ago

(From our issue of August 2, 1900)
Tom Miller, 24, brickmaker, obtained a license to wed Ollie Edmiston, 17.
Captain N. W. Evans stated that the two standing in Nellie's yard on Market street were grown from a seed planted in 1820. It was a stately elm. Firm of Brandt & Kugelmann dissolved, Jacob Kugelmann retiring. He planned to go to Piqua to engage in the meat business.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schumann arrived home from their bridal trip to Indianapolis.
Little Miss Helen Glockner celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary at Camp Recreation, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glockner, and a party of friends were assembling.
Dr. L. F. Edwards received notice of his appointment as an assistant army surgeon. He was assigned to the Second U. S. Infantry, stationed at Ft. Thomas, awaiting orders to go to China.
The Central Saloon changed hands. Alf Ray selling out to John Brewer, of Cincinnati.
Dr. Charles Mooney, young Wheelersburg physician, who graduated in June, planned to locate in Akron.

Exchangeites Refuse To Reveal Diamond Skill Before Eagle-Eyed Kiwanian Scout

Old "Japs" Pluvius and a "Scout" from the Kiwanis club in the person of Eph Rieky were the principal factors which prevented the Exchange club nine from getting in its usual practice session in preparation for the big game next week on the Lucasville fairgrounds. Nevertheless, the outfit yesterday afternoon at the Boy Scout camp above Heisterville was a thoroughly enjoyable one. Bunting was the chief diversion. A chicken supper will be served at the conclusion of the game.

West End Oil Station Opens Saturday

With the opening Saturday of the new filling station at Second and Madison streets, another link will be added to the chain of well equipped stations being operated by that company in the city.
John McMillan, general manager of the company, stated last night that station service with crank case service, alcohol service in winter, free air, and all other facilities of the modern up-to-the-minute station will be maintained at the new post.
"While the crew of operators has not been fully selected," Mr. McMillan said last night, "we are planning to have men of long experience on the job to give the best possible service to the public."
The new station is of brick and stucco construction, and is one of the neatest of its kind in the city. It occupies the corner lot and is so situated that the motorist drives in to the lot from either Second or Madison street.
A concrete pit with full equipment for crank case service has been installed and nearby is the hose line for motorists seeking air for their tires.
A feature of the station is the splendid lighting arrangement, which will make the corner shine out as one of the most prominent in the West End. A splendid arrangement has been worked out, and night trade will find the shades of darkness banished from the regions of the filling station.
An opening day souvenir the company is presenting customers on Saturday, a handy purring can of motor oil with their gas purchases.

DETROIT MAN SETS RECORD FOR HONESTY

DETROIT, Mich., July 31.—All short and long distance records for honesty were shattered, it was disclosed today when C. M. Hargrave, Detroit citizen, wrote in to the city treasurer, Guy L. Ingalls, that his taxes were too low and enclosed $70 more than he had been assessed.

"Assuming that for purposes of taxation the assessed valuation is about one half the market value, this bill is about one third of what it should be," Hargrave wrote concerning the tax on his real estate.

The $70 will be returned, as Ingalls has no authority to receive more than is called for by the assessor.

FARM EXHIBITS TO BE ONE OF MANY FEATURES AT THE LUCASVILLE FAIR

The Scioto County Fair is being held this year especially favorable to the farmers," said ex-County Agent Walter E. Gabm, when consulted Wednesday as to the promise of crop exhibits at the fair.

"Due to the fact," Mr. Gabm continued, "the season is from one to two weeks later, and had the fair been held as early as heretofore, they would have been very seriously handicapped, because the crops would not have reached as near maturity."

The fact that Mr. Roger Thomas, ex-Scioto County farm agent, has not been long in this county, precludes him from a forecast of the crop situation, in relation to the approaching fair, or otherwise, but Mr. Thomas is rapidly getting the "bang of affairs" in all lines of the county work, and the big annual exhibition at the fair next month, will give the new farm official the finest means of getting in individual touch with the people of the county, and their problems and achievements.

Last year, 1923, the crop exhibits at Scioto County Fair were well below the average. There were 220 exhibits at the Home Fair, as against the 509 of the average County Fair, of Ohio. But Scioto County paid for each exhibit 62, as against the 50 paid by the average fair.

Twenty-five thousand is the record of attendance that Scioto County wishes to establish for this year, to put the home exposition up to and over the attendance of the average Ohio Fair. A better fair in most ways than the average Ohio Fair, why not better it in this matter of attendance. Twenty-five hundred for 1924 is the tentative goal.

4,000 Soldiers Return From Camp Knox

CAMP KNOX, Ky., July 31.—Four thousand mothers' sons, brown as berries after their month in the Citizens' Military Training camp here, boarded special trains this morning for their homes in all parts of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The scene at the little railroad station was not without a touch of sadness. Various contingents gathered round in small groups singing songs of their communities, songs of Old Kentucky and finally the martial strains of the Star-Spangled Banner, accompanied by the 120 members of the C. M. T. C. band intermingled with the tearful whistle.

The final grand review was staged Tuesday, after which there were no other military formations. More than a hundred various medals and trophies were presented to the students by Brigadier General Dwight E. Autman, commanding general at the ceremonies, which were witnessed by 300 visitors.

NEGRO SHOT TWICE; GUN USER FLEES

Police Thursday were concentrating their efforts to apprehend a negro known as Lee "Mule" Irvin, 21, who is charged with shooting Floyd Bland, also colored. Bland, wounded twice, lies in a serious condition in a hospital, where he was removed after the gun play was staged at 9:30 last night, on Fifteenth street, near Waller. Bland, who has been a resident of the city for many years, is in a serious condition. One bullet entered his right side above the first rib and then shattered two ribs. It has not been located. The other bullet penetrated the right lung, raged upward and came out the right side of Bland's back.

The trouble leading up to the shooting, according to the police, had been brewing for some time because, it is alleged, that Bland had been paying attention to Irvin's wife. Neither Bland nor Mrs. Irvin would discuss the alleged intimacy with the police.

The two negroes, who formerly had been friends, according to reports, had been quarrelling all afternoon, neighbors said last night. Once they say they saw the two men fighting.

Last night, about a quarter of nine, Bland, who drives a taxi, drove up in front of the Irvin home, and was talking to Mrs. Irvin, who is known throughout the North End as "Mule", came up to the house and, seeing Bland sitting in the car, pulled a gun and fired three shots.

Two of them struck Bland. The third went wild. The first shot, Irvin fired at Bland. Irvin fled after firing the three shots.

Thomas McKinney, colored, who was sitting on a step near the scene of the shooting, fired twice after the fleeing man.

Evidently neither shot took effect, as Irvin ran up Fifteenth street to Union, and then turned north, running over a hill, and disappearing.

Spectators Scurry Indoors.

Most of the residents of the streets were sitting out on the porch, and others came out at the sound of the first shots.

But when McKinney fired at the fleeing man, spectators scurried indoors, and several ran up the alley paralleling Waller street.

A neighbor summoned the police, and Chief Home Arthur, Capt. Lee Stutzman, and Patrolman McFarland and Heid were soon on the scene.

They immediately instituted a search for the gun user, and put out a dragnet but he made good his escape.

Finish Fight Between Rail Board and Union Planned

CHICAGO, ILLS., July 31.—(By the United Press)—A finish fight to determine whether the U. S. Railroad Labor Board has the power to take jurisdiction in disputes between the railroads and their employees and force the submission of testimony was announced today by Ben Hooper, chairman of the board. Hooper, angered by the refusal of the Railroad Unions to testify before the board on the dispute between some 50 western lines and certain classes of their workers regarding wage increases said he would go to Washington for the purpose of seeing if "contempt proceedings in the federal courts" is not the next step.

Officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen last week at a meeting here refused to appear before the board as ordered. The unions hold the board is not empowered to force submission of testimony and left Chicago after sending a defy to Hooper.

Another hearing has been set for September 8. In the meantime Hooper will try to force a showdown to settle once and for all the power of the board.

UPWARD MOVEMENT OF STOCK PRICES CONTINUES

INDUSTRIALS ADVANCE; SOME OF OILS GAIN DESPITE PRODUCTION INCREASE

NEW YORK, July 31.—Stock prices surged upwards today on a broad-based movement which carried many of the leading industrial, rail, department store, public utility and specialty stocks to new 1924 high records. Most of the shares rallied sharply following a favorable earnings report by Standard Oil. The closing volume was strong. Sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The upward movement of stock prices proceeded with renewed vigor at the opening of today's market. American Corn forged ahead to a new high ground for the year at 126 and American Water Works reached a 1924 top price at 117 1/2, up 1 1/2 points. U. S. Steel, Baldwin and other pivotal industrials were higher and some of the oils advanced in the face of an increase in crude oil production.

Profit-taking tendencies later brought some irregularity to the market, forcing slight reactions in American Can, General Electric and several of the rail shares. These failed to check the general advance, however, most issues offering firm resistance to selling pressure. Gains of a point or more were registered by a number of more volatile issues.

Aluminum, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, G. K. King, United Railways, L. A. L. Co., Savage Arms and Atlantic Coast Line, the latter two reaching new 1924 high prices. "Nickel Plate" mounted to a new peak price following reports of progress in the proposed acquisition of Erie and Pere Marquette. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Bullish demonstrations were staged in virtually all groups during the morning, revival of strength and activity in the markets being one of the features. Ralls followed in the wake of industrials with the so-called Van Sweringen stocks changing hands in large volume on reports of an early announcement of consolidation plans. "Nickel Plate" common rising 3 points to a record high at 107 1/2. General Electric moved up more than 2 points on rumors that interests identified with the Electric Bond and Share company which it is supposed to control, had obtained a majority interest in the American Water Works properties. Some of the strong spots included United Fruit, Remington Typewriter, American Agricultural Chemical, preferred, Pierce Arrow preferred, Mack Truck, Maxwell "A" and American Tobacco, up 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 points. Commercial Solvents issues were heavy on reports that the company's Terre Haute plant has closed because of poor business. Call money opened at 2 per cent.

Heavy Rush of Buying Of Wheat Boosts Prices

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK MARKETS
Stocks strong; pivotal issues at new highs. Bonds firm; speculative rails in demand. Foreign exchange steady; sterling slightly higher. Sugar lower; increased offerings. Cotton firm; favorable. Lard conference rumors. Coffee easy; trade selling.

CHICAGO MARKETS
Wheat steady; unfavorable Argentine reports. Corn declined; heavy crop in view. Cattle steady; strong active demand. Hogs easy; large receipts.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Assertions that black rust in its final form has appeared in Canadian wheat fields had a decided bullish effect early today on the wheat market here. Ruptured postures on the head stem of wheat plants were reported at Natick, Minn., and Melita in southwest Manitoba. It was said that a week ago in the same district the rust was only moderately noticeable on the sheath and that there was no visible sign of head stem infection. Largely as a result of these reports, a new rush of wheat buying was witnessed here. Initial prices which ranged 1/4c lower to 1/2c advance, with September 1.31 1/2 to 1.32 and December 1.34 1/2 to 1.35, were followed by upturns of more than two cents a bushel from low prices touched shortly after the opening.

The close was unsettled 3/4c net lower to 1 1/2c higher. Dec. 97 1/2 to 97 3/4. Corn and oats rallied in sympathy with wheat, after having been weak at the start. Corn opening prices were unchanged to 1/4c lower, December 96 1/2 to 97 1/4. Later the market showed fractional gains for most deliveries.

Oats started at 1/2c decline to 2 1/2c advance the latter for July with September at 5 1/2 to 5 1/2. Soon the declines were more than wiped out. A drop in hog values pulled down porks.

The close was unsettled 3/4c to 2c net lower, Sept. 1.32 1/2 to 1.32 3/4 and Dec. 1.35 1/2 to 1.35 3/4.

RACELAND, Ky., July 31.—The riding of Jockey Danny McAuliffe, Louisville, Ky., pilot, overshadowed the performance of the thoroughbreds at Raceland yesterday. The Fall City had won four races with First Pullet, Receiver, Nuyaka and Vallette, while he finished second with Dorothy Adams and Bill Blackwell, and third with Bean King. On Bill Blackwell he missed making it five victories by the narrowest of margins, Amelia S heading his mount in the final stride.

This marked the first time at the Raceland meeting that a rider piloted four winners in one afternoon. Incidentally it required real skill on the part of McAuliffe to perform this feat, as he brought all of his successful mounts from behind. His finish on Nuyaka was the verdict for him here.

McAuliffe inaugurated his string of victories on First Pullet, in the opening race. The next event found him astride Receiver, owned by Williams Brothers, who recently purchased his contract, and the last did get the son of Dominant Cliff "up, up in time to beat Modesta. His third consecutive win came on Nuyaka in as thrilling a finish as was ever witnessed anywhere. McAuliffe slipped down next the inner rail and he was in rather close quarters, but he wiggled through in some manner or another. After winning with Nuyaka he was also a tremendous ovation by the crowd. Tesque, from the J. O. and G. H. Keene stable, outran Dorothy Adams, McAuliffe's mount, all the way in the fourth race. In the fifth the Louisville boy came into his own again when he secured a valuable victory on the usually tame effort with Bill Blackwell in the sixth and had him in front a few yards from the wire, but Amelia S. cleverly ridden by Jockey Harry Gray, could not be denied. The concluding race which fell to Daughter Deat, gave McAuliffe little chance to display his skill as his mount, Bean King, does not call for much.

Trainer G. H. Keene sent two of yesterday's winners to the post—Tesque, owned by himself and his brother Jack, and Daughter Deat, which races in the interest of Charles H. Berryman.

Four successful favorites kept the form players in a happy frame of mind throughout the afternoon. They were First Pullet, Nuyaka, Tesque and Vallette. The offending choices were Modesta, at Oddson, Bill Blackwell and Sayno.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the summer season to date, but the racers in the Tri-State section did not allow the heat to interfere with their pleasure, and they again turned out in large numbers. Relief from the oppressive heat came immediately after the running of the seventh race, however, in the nature of a sharp shower, which lasted for nearly half an hour. It turned the track muddy.

The Greenup Handicap will be run Saturday.

Beaver vs. McDermott Sunday
A big crowd of fans is expected to witness the game at McDermott Sunday, between Beaver and the home team. This is the deciding contest of a three game series. Each has won from the other by the same score, 6-4. Beaver has the champion nine of Pike county, and hopes to defeat McDermott, who is after the same honor in this county. Beaver will probably use their pitching ace, the clever southpaw, Vanossan, while Larry Brannan will twirl for McDermott.

Piketon Fair Well Attended; Race Results

PIKETON, July 31.—A crowd estimated in excess of 1,000 attended the Piketon Fair yesterday and a banner crowd was looked for today, the big day of the fair. It will close Friday.

Farmers found an interesting array of live stock exhibits, their sons taking special interest in the pig clubs' show of about 100 hogs. The state agricultural department had an exhibit of pure blood sheep to attract attention.

Wives of the farmers and many city visitors found principal objects of interest in the fancy work displays. Other exhibitions were of a high order, and attracted comment throughout the day.

There were four entries for the "Green horse" pace and trot, the inaugural event on the three days' racing program. In the second race, or 2:30 pace, Robert Commodore and Star were scratched, but Andy Gump had a last minute entry which got into the money, made a total of 12 starters. This proved the feature race of the day, an extra heat being necessary to a decision. Texas B., owned by Mayor Ralph Culvert of Portsmouth, ran well and came near capturing the race in the last heat.

The original 13 entries for the 2:35 trot competed in the third event. Results:

WOMAN FOUND STRICKEN IN GAS FILLED ROOM

DENVER, Colo., July 31.—Mrs. Gertrude O'Reilly Ramsey Cooper, who was found unconscious in the gas filled kitchenette of her fashionable Capitol Hill apartment here Tuesday morning, tonight lingered between life and death in a Denver hospital.

Efforts to solve the mystery of what took place before she was found have been fruitless.
Mrs. Margaret O'Reilly Casey of Edgewater, a Denver suburb, mother of Mrs. Cooper, maintained her belief that her daughter had not attempted to end her life, and Patrick Casey, her stepfather, was firm in the belief that Mrs. Cooper was the victim of foul play.

"When she visited our home last Friday night she was in high spirits," Mr. Casey said. "I know of no reason why she should have attempted to end her life. She was apparently happy and had plenty of money."

SHE FILLED SPEAKING DAY FOR HUSBAND

KENTON, O., July 31.—Mrs. George R. Harris, wife of a Republican gubernatorial nomination, today earned the distinction of being the only woman since her sex entered politics, who in the absence of her husband filled a speaking engagement for him.

Harris was called last night to Dayton for a political conference, but his speaking schedule in Hancock county was filled by the candidate's wife.

Boy Falls From Wagon

Wagman Gussit, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gussit, 1120 Kendall avenue, fell from a toy wagon on which he was riding yesterday afternoon, fracturing his right collar bone.

The lad was attended by Dr. Walter Beaman, and underwent an x-ray examination at the Fowler Laboratories.

ABSENT MINDED INCOME TAX PAYERS MUST PAY

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—(By the Associated Press).—Failure to make income tax returns last March has cost 20,000 residents of northeastern Ohio, including several thousand Clevelanders, approximately $200,000 in penalties, according to Charles Gilbert, chief deputy of internal revenue.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 absent minded income tax payers are being hauled into the revenue office monthly. They are compelled to pay in addition a usual interest and penalties a fine of $5, which is termed by the revenue collectors as an offer in compromise.

REMOVED HOME

Sherman Stover, colored, has been removed to his home, 1213 Waller street from the hospital hospital. He lost his right foot under the wheels of an N. & W. freight train July 4th.

ONCE IS ENOUGH

LEUT. ARNOLD, one of the American globe flyers, remarked while in Paris that he would not part with the experience of the flight for a million nor would he undertake it again for a million.

Since the aviators had endured the storms and cold of Alaska, the heat of South China and India, the sandstorms of the Persian Gulf region and, having come safely through it all, it is comprehensible that there should be elation that all this had been endured and survived in a record-breaking feat, but at the same time there would be no desire to repeat the experience. Once is enough. If every obstacle could be foreseen when men set out to do something which has never been done before, if there were not a glamor over that which lies in the future, perhaps many notable feats would not be performed under the conditions which surround the doing.

The day may come when flying over the route taken by our aviators will not impose the hardships encountered by the pioneers, but the change will be due to improved craft and the presence of human habitations where storm-tossed airmen may find a haven when needed. The trail-breakers in any difficult enterprise make the way easier for those who follow. If the around-the-world flight is successfully completed we may expect next an effort to better the time made. There will be others willing to try without a million being offered.

Because man has this spirit of seeking to excel, the world moves forward. Were mankind of the dead level sought by the social dreamer, were none permitted to rise above the herd, there would be no globe flights. Such strenuous effort would not be worth while, for it would get one nothing.

CONQUERING NATURE

LOOKING upon Niagara Falls one man said "What a view!" and another exclaimed "What a waste!"

Which was it to be? In this one instance the stupendous waterfall has been preserved in almost its pristine grandeur while engineers have harnessed its power for the manufacture of commercial power. But many of the world's natural wonders and primeval panoramas have fared less fortunately in the eternal war with man's science and commercial advance.

The conflict between beauty and power in nature is the motive for the calling of a world power conference in London. At this conference the best engineers, chemists and inventors the world has to offer are discussing that old and fascinating subject—how to harness sources of power that have hitherto remained as intractable as the zebra and the electricity of the air. As medieval chemists toiled to convert base metal into gold so the London conferees are seeking a way to turn the sun ray and the billowy sea into a motive agency.

The meeting in London, therefore, is in a measure an indignation meeting of conspirators against Nature who are resolved that she shall no longer defraud mankind of a birthright to certain untapped sources of power. The plotters are passing in review such uncontrolled mainsprings of energy as "The Valley of a Thousand Smokes" in Alaska, the geysers of Iceland or the Yellowstone, the steam springs of Tuscany. Why, they ask, should volcanoes do nothing but ruin vineyards and villages and bring toppling what man's industry and piety have reared?

The future of civilization rests largely on the use that is made of many substances that have been carelessly labeled "waste" products. As attar of roses is distilled from the garbage of Berlin, there are jewels still discoverable in the innumerable variety of refuse, as well as in the prodigality of natural resources of which we are so heedless or so prodigal.

FRANCE IN LIMELIGHT

ALTHOUGH it seems necessary in connection with any reference to the presidency of France to restate that the great man in the Elysee Palace amounts to nothing but a figurehead in the government scheme, there are intimations that Gaston Doumergue will prove something of an exception to the rule. He cannot, of course, acquire greater authority than is constitutionally conferred upon him. Millerand thought he might, and see what has become of him.

But the very manner of his election has given Mr. Doumergue a political standing which, if he employ it with becoming self-control, may be made to resemble the balance of power possession of which is an asset of almost priceless value.

The selection of Doumergue is not to be accounted for on the ground that the great majority of those, either senators or deputies, who voted for him are in any wise concerned with promoting his political fortunes. They took him because this way they administered a sharper blow to the opposing legislators than they could have done otherwise. Mr. Doumergue is not therefore under obligations to the Nationalists. He may play them against the Left, or a part of it, or play the Left against the Nationalist bloc, or some of it, as will best serve his purposes. This way he may manage to get more fun out of the presidency than has been the lot of most of his predecessors in the office.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 31.—The old and broken-down actor is Broadway's most tragic figure. His home is the skit room in the theatrical boarding house. Each morning he slips at the mail box in the hall to look for the letter from a producer that never comes.

Then off to some hole in the wall for coffee and rolls. In the outer rooms of the theatrical agencies he sits for hours—watching the barred door, waiting and hoping. His clothes have been brushed threadbare and his runover shoes are spotted.

He has a shabby gentility that only the actor seems to achieve. At night he basks in the electrical glow of the world that once was his. New York holds him in its clutches. The only way he will ever leave it is to go trouping.

He accepts no man's charity. Ask him to dine and he'll say he has just died—even though he may have a box of crackers under his arm to take to his room. Not even defeat will quench his ego. He is always the best in the business.

His optimism in face of the hopeless future he knows is his touchstone. "There are at least 300 of these rare old types living on the fringe of the theatre. One producer tells of one of them who has been to his office every week day for more than two years.

In most cases these actors clutched at stardom and missed. They rarely rose above the inconspicuous part—a butler or the like. Yet they are seldom touched by jealousy. They have seen men and women all around them reach stellar roles.

Their glory in the success that never touched them. There is one old fellow who drops in now and then to chat with me. Invariably when he departs he is on his way to his tailor, although he has worn the same suit for several years.

The silk hat slumped in popularity during the war, and while it is still being worn, there has not been a complete come back. There is one spot in New York, however, where the silk hat never dies. That is Tammany Hall. No Tammany function was ever complete without silk hats. They are worn at all funerals and receptions in which Tammany takes part.

The last time I wore a silk hat was at a wedding. I did all my stuff before the mirror in advance and finally got it at what I thought was a jaunty Regent Street angle, but misplaced it getting into a taxi-cab. I don't believe anything can make one feel so self-conscious as dropping a silk hat on the sidewalk. Three innocent bystanders reached for mine and at least six laughed.

I enjoyed a brief nap in my chair after writing the above paragraph. Upon reading it one can easily understand how sleep was induced. But he that as it may—I had a dream of losing my hat out of a skyscraper window and in rushing for it I toppled downward. I came back to consciousness on the floor.

Another time I went to sleep at the copy desk of a newspaper. The managing editor strolled by and saw me. When I awakened I received this curt note from him: "An editorial desk is the one spot in the world where a man should stay awake. If you feel you are not equal to this I shall be pleased to accept your resignation." The same managing editor quit journalism to study medicine and after graduation was sent to Africa to study sleeping sicknesses. He has been eminently successful and I have always felt I was the inspiration for his career. Copyrighted, 1924, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

THE BOOTLEGGERS' LAMENT
I hate to sell wood alcohol;
I know it is a sin
To flavor it with juniper
And palm it off as gin.
I weep a quart of salty tears
With every pint I sell.
I sob to hear a popping cork—
'Tis someone's funeral knell.

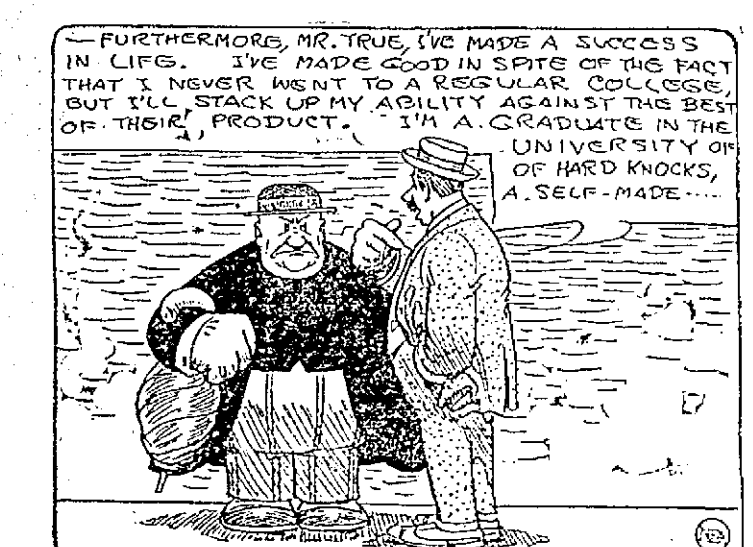

Oh, once I thought that I could trust
My poor weak fellow men.
The judge said: "This time nether days,
And next time it's the pen."
I hate to sell wood alcohol;
But, oh, how I hate jails!
I mourn for every customer
But—dead men tell no tales!
—E. T. Lindberg.

An' that Ain't All
"As far as I can see there are just two kinds of women in the world."
"Well?"
"Those that have been kissed and those that are just about to be."

MAN, WIFE HELD IN MYSTERY MURDER CASE
CHATTANOOGA, TENN., July 31.—The climax to the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Miss Augusta Hoffman, modiste, was reached yesterday afternoon when William H. Bennett, district freight agent for the Southern Railroad at Rome, Ga., and his wife were bound over to the grand jury on charges of murder.

The grand jury, however, does not meet until September, unless called in extraordinary session, but in the meantime the prosecution has announced that no effort will be spared to get at the bottom of the mysterious affair. Miss Hoffman vanished in 1915 and relatives who had abandoned hope of learning her fate now are taking an active interest in the investigation. Little doubt is expressed but that the skeleton found under a house here formerly occupied by Bennett is the remains of the missing modiste.
